FORMATION OF MILITARY BATTALION AT HARVARD.

Discussed by President A. Lawrence in an Open Letter to Undergraduates.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 2.—The proposed formation of a military battalion at Harvard university was discussed by President A. Lawrence Lowell tonight in an open letter to undergraduates.

While no authority of the university would oppose the plan as it could do no serious harm, it was not regarded as especially desirable. It would be unfortunate, he said, if any undergraduate went into the idea that it would be a part of the training of reserve officers or was of any great military value. Harvard, he added, was decidedly in favor of military instruction in summer camps.

SERV-US MINCE MEAT

Package condensed mince meat is made up today of the best quality of dried fruit and other items which can be found, all of which are found in the United States with the exception of spices and currants. The study of packing condensed mince meat has extended over a period of 10 years and today is as near its perfection as we can possibly conceive. The sanitation in the factories in which it is packed is beyond reproach as the competition today in these lines necessitates the guarding of the most minute detail of the business. The apples used are of the best grade of New York State, where in our opinion is grown the best flavored apple in the world. The raisins used are of the best quality seeded variety. No expense is considered in procuring the very highest grade of spices and sugar, as we all know, is always sugar, the different grades merely representing the different flavors of the fruit. The mince meat is thoroughly cleaned and is packed by people trained to know what should and should not be used and in this manner the mince meat is made as clean as a whistle.

The old idea of dirt being prevalent in quantity is today disputed by the greatest authorities on food products. The meat used in mince meat is of the choicest and today the same beef which you would find I would use on our table and which is being used in Serv-US Mince Meat. There are very few pies made which can be used as a dessert as can be prepared and yet as good.

For many years mince meat was considered a winter dish. Each year for the last ten or fifteen years has had to increase its capacity during the summer months until today it runs every day of the year with a regular supply of helpers. We ship goods to every part of the country the entire year. This of course means a great increase in the use of mince meat when mince meat was eaten only in the winter months which means an increased sale over the former winter consumption.

WILLIAM F. WALKER A BROKEN MAN

Paroled New Britain Bank Embezzler Did Not Leave Prison at Wethersfield Yesterday Because of Wintry Weather—Appeared Indifferent and Resumed His Occupation as a Printer While His Brother-in-Law and Sister Make Arrangements for His Future.

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 2.—William F. Walker, paroled prisoner, did not leave the state prison at Wethersfield today. Chilly weather and the approach of a snow storm, do not constitute the proper kind of a welcome for an aged man who has been sheltered inside prison walls for some seven years; and the foreboding weather conditions undoubtedly influenced Judge John J. Coats of New Britain, Walker's brother-in-law and his sponsor while on parole, in deferring the departure from the prison to a better and a brighter day. Walker is a man of about 60 years of age, and is a native of New Britain. He was arrested in 1908 for embezzling from the New Britain Bank. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was paroled in 1914. He is a printer by trade. He has a brother-in-law, John J. Coats, and a sister, Mrs. Coats. They are making arrangements for his future.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which closes the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid, and no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

greater width is 60 miles, while its average width is more than 35 miles. A great part of the island is taken up by two mountain ranges, one of which runs along the southern and central part, and the other of which stretches along the northern coast.

"The coast of Asia Minor lies 46 miles to the north, and that of Syria between 50 and 55 miles to the east. Although nominally a possession of the Ottoman Empire up until the outbreak of hostilities between the Turks and the Allies, Cyprus has been administered by Great Britain since 1878, and now forms an integral part of the British Empire. English occupation has done much to improve the conditions of health on the island, as it has been a stimulus to the commercial development.

The mountains of the island are wild and beautiful, and upon their sides the forests are still growing that were felled and prized in early Egyptian times. They also contain the mines of copper, celebrated among the ancients and still richly productive. The highest altitude is attained by Mount Troodos, with a summit 4490 feet above sea level.

"A wide valley runs, east and west, through the central part of the island. This valley is about 60 miles long, with a breadth varying from 10 to 20 miles. The mountain ranges on either side send their waters to the valley through intermittent torrents. Much of this lowland is uncultivated, though in the northern parts grain is grown. The soil of the whole valley is good, and there is no reason why the uncertain water supply might not be supplemented, bringing all of the land under cultivation. In the days when western civilization was in its swaddling clothes, Cyprus was a rich and fertile land, with its forests, which not only clothed the sides and summits of its mountains with thick masses of green, but which overtook the whole floor of the valley between with such an interlarding sturdy tangle of trees and underbrush, that it was difficult to clear the land for cultivation.

"The wonderful forests of the land, however, in the more than 2,000 of years that have passed since they have been almost entirely cut away. These forests built the ships of Egypt, of Greek Syrian rulers, of Asia Minor cities, and of Turkey, and all that remains of their once much-heralded glory are the pine growths on the mountains. Today the whole central plain is bare and treeless, and with the extinction of the forests many disadvantages of climate have come upon the island, so that Cyprus of the present is not the bright home for man so bravely praised by the Greeks of classic times. It is, nevertheless, a valuable land, and much of its former splendor could be brought back to it by the proper administration and development. The English have done much to improve the island, and it is now a more fertile and more prosperous land than it was when first it was discovered by the Greeks."
